

Ilda Halilčević was born in Tuzla in 2000. After completing high school in 2019, she enrolled in the Academy of Fine Arts in Sarajevo - the Education Department, where she obtained a bachelor's degree in Fine Arts - Art Education. She is currently studying for a master's degree at the Academy of Fine Arts in Sarajevo. She spent one semester at the Faculty of Applied Arts in Belgrade, in the applied painting program. Halilčević actively participated in several student artistic research projects. As a visual artist, she focuses on contemporary painting, exploring various media and forms of artistic expression to convey her message. She has participated in student and group exhibitions and has published three texts in the field of art theory and education. Halilčević was awarded the Silver Badge of the University of Sarajevo, declared the best student in her department, and nominated for the annual award "Alija Kučukalić." She also participated in the international scientific conference Art and Education 2024 "Modern methods and concepts of education in the field of art" in Novi Sad, Serbia.